DEGREE DUE FRIDAY

MAUNALEI COMPROMISE
TO HAVE DECISION THEN

Judge Humphreys Objects to Some Features of the Settlement as Proposed by the Attorneys.

The proposition to settle the affairs of the Maunalei Sugar Company, as published in the Bulletin yesterday, was submitted to Judge Humphreys in the afternoon for approval. The attorneys representing the various interests, Receiver T. McCants Stewart and his attorney, Frederick W. Hankey, were present.

The proposition to distribute the proceeds of the sale to W. H. Pain among the creditors represented in the settlement did not commend itself to the Court. Judge Humphreys objected to the idea of sitting in equity in a matter and distributing proceeds of a sale among certain creditors, leaving others to make themselves whole by proceeding against the delinquent shareholders. It seems there are about $1600 worth of such claims which were not represented in the settlement as agreed upon among the big creditors. Various plans for getting around the difficulty raised by the Court were suggested by the attorneys.

The next point in the out of court compromise on which the Court wanted more light was the fees asked by the receiver and the receiver's attorney. Receiver Stewart asked $2000; his attorney F. W. Hankey, $1000. The Court particularly objected to the attorney's fee as exorbitant and unreasonable and demanded an affirmative showing.

Mr. Hankey, addressing the Court in the matter, said the fee was not fixed by himself but by the parties to the settlement and that individually, he was very willing to leave the amount of his compensation to the discretion and judgment of the Court. With reference to W. O. Smith and A. Lewis, attorneys for the Maunalei Corporation the Court was inclined to believe them entitled to no fee whatever. After hearing all sides, the Court announced that a decree would be signed in the matter next Friday. At all events the sale to W. H. Pain would be approved, whether the other features of the compromise are confirmed or not.

The sale contemplates a transfer to W. H. Pain all the leases, goods and chattels of the company, except cash on hand and uncollected capital, for $12,000. Pain engages to obtain for the company a release from all lease obligations and will assume all liability to the Edison Iron Works and Locomotive.

POLLUTED WATER SUPPLY.

Sewage polluted water supplies have been held responsible for recent outbreaks of typhoid fever at New Haven, Conn., and Rock Island, Ill. It is said that 150 or more cases have been reported at New Haven, nearly all in a section of the city supplied from one storage reservoir. It is also said that three cases of typhoid fever occurred in a house in the drainage area of this reservoir and that the excreta from the patients was buried in trenches a short distance from one of the streams in the drainage area. At Rock Island the epidemic has been investigated by Prof. E. G. Smith, of Helott, Wis., who has found that one of the pump wells receives polluted water by infiltration. He recommends that the slow sand filtration plant, owned by the city, be put in operation again, under careful supervision as to its efficiency.—Engineering News.

WHAT AMERICANS HAVE DONE FOR HAVANA

An uncommonly significant document is the official report of the chief sanitary officer in Cuba for the last month. Briefly, it shows that, instead of being, as of old, plague-infested, that island is becoming salubrious, as nature intended it to be, and that Havana, instead of being a perennial lazaretto, is taking rank among the most healthful cities of its size in the world. The midwinter month is, of course, the time in which the lowest death rate is naturally to be looked for in a semi-tropical city. But there is unmistakable significance in comparisons of last month's rate in Havana with that in the same month three years ago, and with that of the same month in other cities not dissimilarly situated. In February, 1898, under Spanish rule, the death rate was 82.32 in the thousand, and in February, 1901, under American rule, it was 19.32. In Havana the death rate was 19.32 in the thousand, while at practically the same time in New Orleans it was 28.26; in Mobile it was 29.73, and in Jacksonville it was 48.37. In New York, Boston, Newark, Washington, Baltimore and other Northern cities the death rate was and doubtless is to-day higher than in Havana.

We need not enter into discussion of the administrative details by means of which this most admirable change has been effected. Whitewashing and disinfecting houses, asphalted streets, segregating fever patients, waging war against the infection-carrying mosquitoes—all these things are to be summed up in one word, sanitation. That sanitation, too, has been effected under American control and direction. It has been done by the American administration of insular affairs. Whether it would or could have been done by the Cubans unaided is an open question, which may be answered in the negative. At any rate, the work thus far done is an American work, and is one of the most beneficial works that could have been done for Cuba itself and for every community and country in the world that has or expects to have relations with Cuba. In the terms prescribed by Congress for the turning over of insular affairs to the Cubans themselves it is stipulated that the beneficial work shall be maintained. The stipulation is not only a reasonable and just one, but is, by virtue of such facts as those presented in the report we have quoted, made absolutely incumbent and imperative. After the gain that has been made for human health and life, to let the island relapse, or to risk its relapsing, into the old conditions of disease and death would be an unspeakable wrong and shame.—New York Tribune.

BOUGHT ROTTEN FISH.

During the forenoon session of the Senate yesterday, there was quite a lively debate over the office of market inspector, some of the Republicans getting this confounded with the office of fish inspector. During the debate Mr. Kanuha arose and interrupted Mr. Achil, calling into question one of the remarks made by him. Mr. Achil turned quickly and told Mr. Kanuha to take his seat. He was talking sense while all the Senator who interrupted him talked, was nonsense.

Later, Mr. Achil referred to the necessity of a man at the fishmarket to keep the Chinamen from selling spoiled fish. He said he went to the market on Saturday and paid a dollar and a half for a big kumu. He said he had his eyes and nose open wide and was trusting somewhat to the fact that the inspectors at the market were also on the qui vive. However, he succeeded in getting a rotten fish. On returning to the market, the inspector took the fish back to the Chinaman and made him pay back the money. This, to Mr. Achil's mind, was a great point in favor of an inspector at the market. Mr. Achil's eloquence on the subject of rotten fish prevented the item being stricken out of the bill. The whole matter was referred to a special committee.

LIBERTY INCLUDES RIGHT TO WORK

Judge Jesse Holdom of Chicago, in a recent decision rendered in a Labor Union assault case growing out of a strike, upheld in forcible language the right of any man to work at any labor with which he is satisfied.

The case was that of Albert Hill of the Lathers' Union, who was charged with assaulting James Kelly, another member of the union, because of his refusal to stop work on a building where a strike was in progress.

The defendant's attorney pleaded with the Court that inasmuch as his client already had served some time in jail and had suffered as much as Kelly from the fight, he should not be punished any more.

"No, the matter is more serious than you think," returned Judge Holdom. The assault and battery is not so serious in itself, but there is a great principle at stake—the principle of the personal liberty guaranteed us by the Constitution. When Kelly was at work on a contract with which he was satisfied, the President of the United States, nor any official nor any individual, has a right to interfere with him. True, Kelly was member of the union, as was Hill. He had a right to be, and it was his duty to obey the rules of the union.

"When he refused, however, the union had its redress in disciplining him and expelling him. It had no right to send a committee to interfere with him and assault him."

"Let us not forget these basic principles of our liberty. We in America boast a liberty unknown elsewhere. Let us not make it license. In this instance the effect of the assault was not on Kelly alone, but upon the principles of our constitutional rights."

"I do not want to be understood as being opposed to unions. I believe in the rights of men to form unions, and I believe they make for improvement and good."
